

ISO9001:2015 Quality Management Systems Workshop

Achieving ISO 9001: 2015 certification is a way of reassuring customers, suppliers and stakeholders that you have implemented the standard properly. Moreover, some companies, public bodies and government departments only work with those who are ISO 9001 certified.

Meeting the requirements of the standard can seem like a daunting task. However, with the support of NDC's ISO 9001: 2015 workshop, the process is straightforward and structured. We can show you how to assess your current systems against the standard and put the necessary measures in place to meet the standard.

This workshop will cover:

- ISO9001:2015 requirements of the standard
- The framework of a QMS based on plan, do, check, act
- Non-conformity reporting
- Internal auditing
- Objectives and targets
- Management review and reporting
